Paul Bunyan would love it here. As a matter of fact, he does.

Paul would love our sprawling forests, extensive nature centers and wetlands, miles and miles of biking and hiking trails, golf courses and our restaurants. (There are plenty of flapjack houses too!) And with a 30-foot sculpture of Paul here in the internationally-acclaimed Nathan Manilow Sculpture Park at Governors State University, he's already right at home.

The Chicago Southland is just 30 minutes from Chicago's Loop and easily accessible from anywhere around the country. It's just the place for someone like you.
